Overview of Kentucky's Small System Peer Review Program

This training seminar is designed to offer volunteer water system personnel training to address environmental performance and management of drinking water facilities.

The Peer Review Program was created as a volunteer partnership for communities and systems to assist each other in preventing violations and improving operations and water quality.

The training will provide the knowledge, materials, and skills necessary to conduct confidential, on-site evaluations of participating communities, utilizing the expertise created by Peer Review Teams from local representatives trained by the state of Kentucky's Division of Water, Kentucky Rural Water Association and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.
