

TRI Tools and Resources

Tools and resources that can help you find information specific to your concerns and communities:

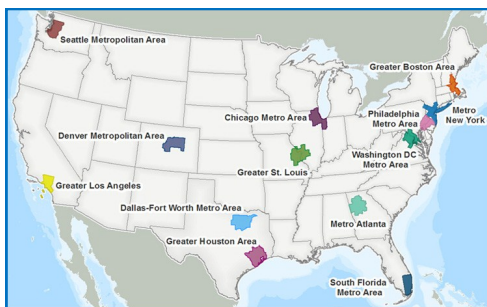

For more information about the Toxics Release Inventory Program and the most recent TRI data, go to:

- EPA's TRI website — www.epa.gov/tri

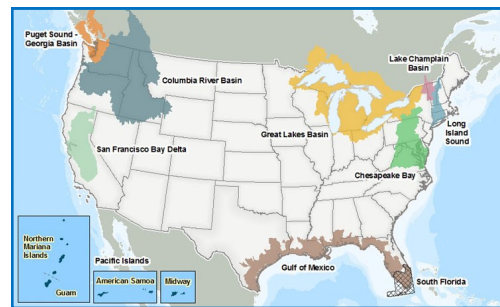

For location-specific analysis of TRI data, go to:

- 2011 TRI National Analysis — www.epa.gov/tri/nationalanalysis

2011 Location-Specific Analyses

Urban Communities

Large Aquatic Ecosystems

Indian Country and Alaska Native Villages

State Fact Sheets

See also

- Chemical Right 2 Know (www.chemicalright2know.org) — a site developed by the Environmental Council of the States through a cooperative agreement with EPA.
- myRight-to-Know TRI mobile application (www.epa.gov/tri/myrtk/index.htm) — learn about nearby TRI facilities.