Woodstove Changeout Program Snapshot: Northern Sierra Air Quality Management District

Program Title	Woodstove Rebates (no official name) [Website:
	http://www.myairdistrict.com/html/woodstove_rebates.html]
Location (City, Counties, Regions included in program)	Northern Sierra Air Quality Management District (NSAQMD) (encompasses Nevada, Plumas, and Sierra Counties)
Population/No. of Homes (No. of people/homes in area covered by program)	 City of Portola Population: approximately 2,250 City of Portola Housing[†]: approximately 1,010 Population in NSAQMD over 65/Total Housing[†] Nevada County — approximately 16,100/44,300 Plumas County — approximately 3,700/13,400 Sierra County — approximately 600/2,200 Total — approximately 20,400/59,900
Objectives (NAAQS attainment/maintenance, indoor air, visibility, air toxics, public education)	 Reduce health impacts from exposure to wood smoke. Reduce ambient particulate levels to below the State and National Ambient Air Quality Standards. Primary focus on areas with the highest levels of wood smoke induced particulate levels. Extra funding has been allocated to the Portola area due to its high PM2.5 levels. A component of the woodstove rebate program is a special program targeting low-income senior citizens in Plumas County.
Milestones (time frame for program, no. of changeouts, air quality goals, no. of low-income homes targeted, if applicable)	 First changeout program began in January of 1998 and included all three counties within the NSAQMD. NSAQMD: 1st woodstove in the Low-income Senior program was changed-out in January of 2004. Program will continue until funding is depleted.
Budget (projected/actual cost of program)	 City of Portola program: $25,000 NSAQMD program: Limited amount of funding available in rebates of up to $2,500 for low-income senior citizens.
