

Join Us for a Day of Learning About Riparian Restoration at Barr Lake State Park! September 18, 2014

An outdoor day with your colleagues at the beautiful
Barr Lake State Park

Event will be in the Pavilion
and at field
locations in the Park

(Rain or Shine)

FREE

Native
vegetation,
Best Practices,
Demonstrations, and Rocky Mountain Bird
Observatory

Lunch provided

RSVP

Required by Sept 8th

Agenda

7:00 a.m. Demonstrations at Rocky Mountain Bird Observatory
Banding Station

8:00 a.m. Registration (at Pavilion), coffee and bagels

9:00 a.m. Welcome

9:15 a.m. Effects of Russian-olive Removal on Species Diversity; Case Study
Yuma County / Republican River -- Dr. Andrew Norton, CSU

10:00 a.m. Break

10:15 a.m. Habitat Restoration Panel

Native Plant Seed Inventory, Denver Botanic Gardens, Chatfield -- Larry Vickerman, Director

Water Quality -- Steve Lundt, Metropolitan Wastewater and Sanitation District

How to engage volunteers -- Jesse Roehm, Mile High Youth Corps

Managing Volunteers -- Wildlands Restoration Volunteers

11:15 a.m. Question and Answer

11:30 a.m. Lunch in Pavilion (Lunch Provided)

12:30 p.m. -- Leave for Field Sessions. Bus transportation provided.

Field Session Stations

Barr Lake Riparian Restoration Project -- Boyd Lebeda, CSFS

How Planting Natives Benefits Wildlife -- Seth Gallagher, RMBO

Russian-olive Removal -- Demonstration of methods, Chuck Dennis and Mile High Youth Corps

Tree Planting demonstration -- CSFS

2:45 p.m. Return to Pavilion

3:30 p.m. Wrap Up

RSVP Required to Riparian918@gmail.com
Attendance Limited to the first 100 People Who Sign Up

