Absentee Shawnee Tribe Brownfields Job Training Program
Brownfields Job Training Program
History and Background

• January 1995: EPA announces the first Brownfields Pilots
  • Reflecting EPA’s growing concern for “environmental equity,” later known as environmental justice issues
  • Lesson learned: Communities surrounding these brownfields were not benefitting from the job opportunities created by their assessment and cleanup
    • Lack of environmental training among local workforces

• 1996: EPA signs a Memorandum of Understanding with the Dept. of Labor, focusing on job training and employment opportunities related to the Brownfields program for local youth and adults

• 1998: The National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences establishes a Brownfields Minority Worker Training Program in collaboration with selected EPA Brownfields Pilot grantees.
Brownfields Job Training Program

History and Background

- 1998: EPA awards its first 11 Brownfields Job Training Pilots to entities including cities, community colleges, universities, and non-profits.

- June 1999: The Brownfields Job Training Program produces its first 100 graduates.

- September 1999: 100 graduates of EPA-funded Job Training Programs have been placed in environmental jobs.

- June 2001: The number of Brownfields Job Training Program graduates reaches 1,000.
Brownfields Job Training Program
History and Background

- January 2002: President Bush signs the Small Business Liability Relief and Brownfields Revitalization Act into law
  - Known as the “Brownfields Law,” this legislation amended CERCLA to specifically authorize federal financial assistance for Brownfields revitalization, including grants for assessment, cleanup, and job training

- 2003: EPA awards $2 million for Brownfields Job Training Grants in ten communities across seven states under the new “Brownfields Law”

- As of August 2015: Approximately 14,100 individuals have completed training and approximately 10,200 obtained employment in the environmental field, with an average starting hourly wage of $14.27.
  - Cumulative placement rate since inception= 72%
The Environmental Workforce Development and Job Training program is designed to:

- Recruit, train, and place unemployed and under-employed residents from communities impacted by brownfields
- Further environmental justice (EJ) by ensuring that residents living these communities benefit from the revitalization and environmental cleanup of brownfields
- Help graduates develop wider skill sets that improve their ability to secure full-time, sustainable employment in various aspects of hazardous and solid waste management and within the larger environmental field, including water quality improvement and chemical safety
EWDJT Program
Overview

• Environmental Workforce Development and Job Training program requirements:
  • Must target unemployed and under-employed individuals that are residents living in or near an area adversely impacted by the presence of Brownfields or other EPA-funded projects
  • Must be an eligible entity
  • Must not duplicate other federally funded environmental job training programs
  • Must provide OSHA 29 CFR 1910.120 40-Hour Hazardous Waste Operations and Emergency Response to all trainees
  • Must meet all other threshold criteria as outlined in Section III.C of the RFP
In addition to Brownfields hazardous waste training, grantees may use funds for:

- Solid waste management or cleanup training
- Superfund site cleanup training, including innovative and alternative treatment alternatives
- Wastewater treatment and/or stormwater management training
- Emergency response training
- Enhanced environmental health and safety and/or chemical safety training
- Integrated Pest Management (IPM) training

Note: All the above training can be delivered at awareness levels or advanced levels. Expanded descriptions of these trainings are available in the FY2016 RFP.
EWDJT Program
Use of Grant Funds

• Additional eligible uses of grant funds:

  • Personnel costs for instructors to conduct training, fringe benefits, and/or tasks associated with programmatic reporting requirements

  • Costs for screening and placement of students

  • Cost for training materials and work gear associated with the training curriculum

  • Outreach activities directed toward engaging prospective employers to be involved in the job training program and to hire graduates

Note: Section I.C of RFP provides a list of additional types of supplemental training that are eligible uses of grant funds
EWDJT Program
Use of Grant Funds

• Grant funds may NOT be used for:

  • Training in general construction skills and trades
    • EPA encourages applicants to leverage this training through outside funding

  • Life skills education activities, such as resume writing, remedial math and reading classes, interview skills, etc.

  • Stipends for students, administrative costs, or Indirect costs

  💫 Note: Section I.C of RFP provides a list of ineligible uses of grant funds

  💫 Note: Please refer to Appendix I: Prohibition on Use of Funds
• Applicants must discuss how funding will achieve environmental outputs and outcomes in their proposals:

• Output → refers to an environmental activity, effort, and/or associated work product related to an environmental goal or objective that will be produced or provided over a period of time or by a specified date.
  • Outputs may be quantitative or qualitative but must be measurable during the project period.

• Outcome → refers to the result, effect, or consequence that will occur from carrying out the activities under the grant.
  • Outcomes may be environmental, behavioral, health-related, or programmatic, must be quantitative, and may not necessarily be achievable during the project period.

Note: For more information, please refer to Section I.E of the RFP
Historically, EPA has set a high standard for successful EWDJT grant applications:

- On average, 1 out of every 4 applications is funded per solicitation
- From year-to-year, approx. 90% of previously unfunded applicants who reapply are successful at being funded

In FY 2016, the total estimated funding for EWDJT grants is $3.5 million

- EPA anticipates funding 17-18 cooperative agreements
- Applicants may request up to a maximum of $200,000
