Photos of Indian Creek provided by Hall & Associates

The February 4, 2010 Letter from John Hall to EPA Region 3 Water Protection Division Director Jon Capacasa and PADEP Deputy Secretary John Hines (referred to as “T1” in this Reconsideration Decision Rationale) included photos of Indian Creek related to the following technical concern:

The available data confirms that tree canopy loss, as opposed to nutrients, is responsible for the excessive plant growth and controls the degree of plant growth occurring in the watershed. (T1 at pages 13, 18.)

Attachment C incorporates these photos of Indian Creek that were provided by Hall & Associates in its February 4, 2010 letter.
