

NOTICE for PUBLIC COMMENT

PRASA Jayuya Water Treatment Plant Jayuya, Puerto Rico

SUMMARY

The Puerto Rico Aqueduct and Sewer Authority (PRASA) has applied for renewal of its National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit for the Jayuya Water Treatment Plant (WTP) in Jayuya.

The Jayuya Water Treatment Plant (WTP) is a filtration plant that treats water from the Rio Grande de Jayuya to provide clean drinking water to the metropolitan area. Wastewater from the treatment plant is discharged to the Rio Grande de Jayuya.

The NPDES permit ensures that the amount of discharge and the amount of contaminants in the discharge remains below levels that are safe for the environment and public health consumption.

How to Access the Draft Permit Documents

Copies of the draft permit documents can be found on EPA's website at:
www.epa.gov/region02/water/permits.html

Hard copies are located at:

Casa Alcaldía de Jayuya.

This diagram summarizes the WTP process. This is based on a scenario where there is maximum water flowing in the treatment plant. The actual amounts of water may be less.

DRAFT PERMIT CONDITIONS

The permit establishes numeric water quality effluent limitations for several pollutants, including pH, dissolved oxygen, temperature, color, turbidity sulfates, total ammonia, suspended solids, and metals.

The permit limits the WTP's numeric flow effluent pursuant to Puerto Rico Environmental Quality Board (PREQB) and other conditions.

Under NPDES the permit specifies requirements for recording and reporting monitoring results of the numeric effluent limitations described above.
