OFFICE OF
ENVIRONMENTAL INFORMATION

David W. Schnare, Esq. Ph.D.
9033 Brook Ford Road
Burke, VA 22015

Dear Dr. Schnare:

This is the response to your Request for Correction (RFC 10009)¹ submitted on August 20, 2010, pursuant to the Guidelines for Ensuring and Maximizing the Quality, Objectivity, Utility, and Integrity of Information Disseminated by the Environmental Protection Agency.² In this RFC, you cite concerns about the objectivity and utility of information used to develop the Draft Benthic Total Maximum Daily Load Development for Accotink Creek, Virginia (draft TMDL).³ The EPA draft TMDL public comment response process will be used to address your information quality concerns.

In July 2010, EPA released the draft TMDL for public review and comment. On August 20, 2010, you submitted a public comment⁴, which includes this RFC. EPA is currently reviewing the public comments that were received. At the conclusion of this review, the Agency will consider all of the public comments, revise the draft TMDL as appropriate, and prepare a decision rationale document. The decision rationale document will include a written response to your information quality concerns as well as a summary response to other public comments that were received. To avoid duplicate actions that would interfere with the on-going TMDL process, we will not use the EPA Information Quality Guidelines Request for Correction process⁵ to respond to your RFC.
