

Phillip Barnett has worked at the Environmental Protection Agency for over thirty years. He spent ten years serving as a Clean Air Act inspector and compliance officer. Thereafter, he has served as the Region 4 System Administrator for the Integrated Compliance and Information System from the inception of the system to its current state. The Integrated Compliance and Information System or ICIS for short, is the system of record for all EPA enforcement actions and most compliance activities and is the data system for the Clean Water Act National Pollution Discharge Elimination System and Clean Air Act Stationary Sources. As a regional system administrator, Mr. Barnett oversees user access, data quality, training, and reports. He also is the Region 4 Compliance and Enforcement Data Steward and regional contact for the Enforcement and Compliance History Online website or ECHO, wherein he facilitates the use, promotion, and error corrections.
