CREATING THE WATER WORKFORCE OF THE FUTURE
WEBINAR SERIES

Veterans in the Water Workforce

As part of EPA’s commitment to helping build a diverse and sustainable water workforce, today’s veterans can provide a very important set of skills as well as benefit from a range of programs designed to help them build a meaningful career in water. Please join us on February 29th to hear from organizations that are reaching out to and training these veterans so they can play a key role in protecting our nation’s critical water infrastructure.

This webinar is part of an ongoing webinar series hosted by EPA, in partnership with leading water sector organizations around the country. More information on this webinar series can be found at https://www.epa.gov/sustainable-water-infrastructure/water-sector-workforce-webinars

Veterans in the Water Industry

Many veterans work in the water industry
According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, over 10% of workers in water & wastewater utilities are veterans

Veterans possess useful skills for the water industry
Skills like teamwork, attention to detail, and ability to follow procedures are valuable in water treatment roles

Veterans can benefit from water industry jobs
Stable government water jobs provide continuity, good benefits, and a sense of ongoing service for veterans

The water industry provides an excellent opportunity for veterans to continue serving their communities!
Military Training and Experience Similarities with the Water and Wastewater Industry

• Mission Focused
• Teamwork
• Chain of Command
• Focus on Service
• Crisis and Risk Management
• Training
• Decision Making
• Community Involvement

Successful military experience involves a deep appreciation for regulations. Service members lived it every day!

Veteran Readiness and Employment (VR&E)

Timothy Johnston-Supervisor of Employment Services for VR&E

February 2024
Veterans Readiness and Employment (VR&E) is a comprehensive program that assist Veterans and transitioning Service members with at least a 10% service-connected disabilities rating to prepare for, find and maintain suitable employment.
VR&E Service employs approximately 75 Employment Coordinators (EC) nationwide. They play a vital role in assisting Veterans to achieve their employment goals. EC’s are tasked with establishing relationships with employers to assist in staffing and meeting their workforce needs.
We work with our VR&E participants to create a plan needed to gain employment or live more independently in their home or community through the following five tracks:

1. Reemployment
2. Rapid Access to Employment
3. Self-Employment
4. Employment Through Long-Term Services
5. Independent Living
Veterans Readiness & Employment (VR&E)

Employers can use some of the following VR&E programs as a tool to recruit transitioning Service members and Veterans.

• On-the-job and Apprenticeship Training Programs
• Special Employer Incentive Program (SEI) (Private, Non-profit employers only)
• Non-Paid Work Experience Program (NPWE)
Veterans Readiness & Employment (VR&E)

Non-Paid Work Experience Program (NPWE)
Memorandum of Agreement with EPA (2020)

BENEFITS TO THE EMPLOYER

- The employer incurs no cost.
- Participant does not count toward the partnering agency’s number of full-time employees (FTE).
- Obtains a well-trained and diverse job-ready candidate.
- Federal employers may use Special Hiring Authorities to directly hire NPWE participants without competitive recruitment.
- VR&E can offer reasonable accommodations without additional costs to the partnering agency.

BENEFITS TO THE VETERAN

- Receives an opportunity to work in governmental agency with a strong chance of becoming employed
- Receives a monthly stipend while in the program, just like they would if they were in a traditional training facility.
- Opportunity too network in the agency for other employment opportunities if available
- Obtained employment references and letters of recommendation.
