Written Comment from Navy:

The Department of the Navy is in receipt of the Department of Defense Inspector General's investigations of the Red Hill Bulk Fuel Storage Facility. We are committed to constant improvement to ensure the highest standards of operation, maintenance, safety, and oversight at all of our facilities at all times.

We recognize the importance of protecting the environment including our drinking water systems and complying with federal and state regulations, as well as Department of Defense policies. The Navy has reviewed the IG reports and recommendations, and we are committed to implementing improvements based on these findings.

The Navy remains dedicated to transparency and accountability in our operations. We actively engage and communicate with stakeholders in a variety of venues. These engagements, coupled with active coordination with regulatory agencies, have strengthened our practices to ensure the well-being of our communities and the protection of the environment.

We appreciate the insights provided by the Inspector General's investigation and will continue to work diligently to address recommendations to enhance public trust.

- Discussion about the federal spending so far to remediate the Red Hill water crisis, and close the facility. How is the $3 Billion appropriated by Congress so far being spent?

Budget questions should be directed to the Congressional Delegation or Congressional Budget Office.
