2024-R09-02012	Falcon, Glynn	-	The San Jose Mercury News reported: The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency this week announced settlements with two Watsonville companies — S. Martinelli & Co. and Del Mar Food Products Corp., both of which employ a large number of South Santa Clara County workers — for mishandling of the toxic refrigerant anhydrous ammonia. As part of the agreements, the companies have updated their equipment that handles the chemical and will pay out combined hundreds of thousands of dollars in penalties. Del Mar Foods, which prepares frozen fruits and vegetables, and S. Martinelli & Co., which produces popular apple cider and juice products, both use anhydrous ammonium as a refrigerant. If handled improperly, it can lead to	10/02/2023

			everything from severe respiratory injuries to death. “[It] is toxic and can threaten workers, first responders and the public, so it’s imperative that facilities using this chemical follow federal requirements to prevent accidents,” said EPA Pacific Southwest Regional Administrator Martha Guzman in a news release. “EPA will hold to account companies that don’t comply with environmental laws.” The EPA first flagged both companies during inspections in September 2021. Follow-up investigations found that both Del Mar Foods and S. Martinelli and Co. were not managing their use of anhydrous ammonium properly, putting them in violation of the Clean Air Act. The agency found that Del Mar Foods also had one minor release that took place during their inspection as well as 11 “nuisance releases” of the chemical that they had failed to report. No injuries were reported after any of the releases. Additionally, the EPA found that S. Martinelli & Co. failed to properly plan with local emergency responder for a possible ammonium release. Though the use of the anhydrous ammonium is widespread, “catastrophic accidents at ammonia refrigeration facilities — historically about 150 each year — result in fatalities and serious injuries, evacuations and other harm to human health and the environment,” said EPA spokesperson Joshua Alexander over email. Since the investigation, both companies have repaired damaged equipment and made steps to improve safety policies surrounding their handling of the refrigerant. “In full cooperation with the EPA inspection, Del Mar Foods completed all the corrective action items months ago,” said company President P.J. Mecozzi in a written statement. Del Mar Foods also will pay $131,420 in settlement to the EPA. S. Martinelli & Co. is still in the process of updating its facility but has agreed to pay $127,828 and purchase $67,000 in emergency response equipment for the Watsonville Fire Department. FOIA REQUESTS: 1) All communications by and between S. Martinelli & Co. and the EPA regarding the complaints pertaining to "anhydrous ammonia," any and all violations of EPA regulations by S. Martinelli & Co. in the last 5 years, and all settlement documents by and between S. Martinelli & Co. and the EPA. 2) All communications by and between the EPA and the City of Watsonville regarding S. Martinelli & Co. , the anhydrous ammonia violations, and any settlement documents provided to the City of Watsonville by the EPA.

2024-OCSPP-02034	McPartland, Tor	Orange Guard Inc.	I'm requesting access to MRID: 50132100 which I located on the NPIRS website. This is TEC Laboratories d-Limonene chemistry, toxicity and efficacy studies from 2016 for their product Licefreee Home. Licefreee Home uses d-Limonene as their active ingredient. I'm requesting access because my company, Orange Guard, uses d-Limonene as the active ingredient in our insecticide product as well and we are looking to submit a tolerance petition to the EPA for d-Limonene in order to hopefully get food use for Orange Guard. The tolerance petition requires submitting data from various studies regarding the active ingredient which is d-Limonene in this case. These studies would be very helpful to us as it will provide insight on crucial information regarding d-Limonene and eliminate the need for us to repeat any of the studies already done. There are 17 studies in total from my understanding and having access to them all would be very helpful so we can see which ones are applicable for us to reuse. Here is the title of the submitted reports as seen on the NPIRS website: TEC Laboratories, Inc. (2016) Submission of Product Chemistry, Toxicity, and Efficacy Data in Support of the Application for Registration of Licefreee Home. Transmittal of 17 Studies.	10/03/2023

2024-OLEM-02285	Lewis, Robert	CalMatters	October 5, 2023 Attn: Freedom of Information Act Officer U.S. Environmental Protection Agency To Whom It May Concern: This is a request for government agency records made under the right of access granted by the Freedom of Information Act. This request is dated Oct. 5, 2023. I am writing to request copies of the following records: --All consented hazardous waste import notices since Jan. 1, 2020 pertaining to the import of hazardous waste from Mexico. It's my understanding that entities seeking to import hazardous waste from a foreign destination such as a generator in Mexico need to file an import notice. It's further my understanding that such notices need to be approved or consented to prior to the actual import. I am essentially seeking records showing all import notices submitted on or after Jan. 1, 2020, which were ultimately approved/consented to. Ideally, this information is available in an electronic format such as an excel spreadsheet. I realize, however, you're not required to create a record if one does not exist. Therefore, if you're unable to provide a simple spreadsheet, please provide copies of the actual import notices. I am a reporter for CalMatters, a nonprofit news outlet covering California policy and politics, and with a broad audience across the state and nation. This request is in the routine course of newsgathering. I am seeking a fee waiver for this request as a working journalist serving the public interest by providing insight into a subject of high importance and interest. The transboundary shipment of hazardous waste can impact human health and safety as well as the environment. However, if you do not grant my fee waiver, I agree to pay reasonable duplication fees for the processing of this request. Please notify me prior to your incurring any expenses in excess of $25. My email address: robert@calmatters.org If you determine that an express provision of law exists to exempt from disclosure all or a portion of the material I have requested, please provide the specific statute or legal authority on which you base any determination to withhold records in whole or in part. If anything in this request is unclear or you need clarification, I can also be reached at (b) (6). Thank you for your assistance with this request. Sincerely, Robert Lewis Reporter CalMatters Email: robert@calmatters.org (Date Range for Record Search: From 01/01/2020 To 10/05/2023)	10/05/2023

2024-R01-02363	Richer, Jason	-	This FOIA request is for the EPA. Their FOIA Portal is not working. In the EPA's 5 Year Review (page 19) of the WS&G Superfund site, it mentions the testing of wells for 1,4-Dioxane and PFAS in the years 2019 -2012 in 18 wells. I am requesting these testing results to include which wells were tested, which compounds were tested for, which ones were detected in each well and what the test results were for each pollutant detected.. In a subsequent letter I received from the EPA after the publication of the 5 Year Review, I've been left with some questions. The 5 Year Review mentions a concern for the disruption of groundwater dynamics on page 23. The published review can be found here: https://semspub.epa.gov/work/01/100026993.pdf The subsequent letter will be attached. In it, it is stated that the infiltration ponds on the quarry property Plat 7 lot 38 were (8 ponds) tested for contaminants. I also am requesting the results received for the 8 ponds in the quarry that were tested. What were they tested for, what was detected. Also, did these 8 ponds get tested for the presence of PFAS compounds? If not, why were they not tested?	10/23/2023

2024-OAR-02325	Nagy, D.	-	I am concerned about the trails I am seeing in the sky in south-central Michigan. I know about normal contrails. They dissipate soon after leaving the aircraft. But these trails stay for hours, smudging the sky into a gray haze. I often see them going directly over the sun or making "X"s over a certain place. What I'd like to know: What agency is in charge of these trails? What is the chemical composition of them? I'm assuming these are to "combat climate change", but is that true? All research I can find simply reassures me that they are indeed normal contrails, but as I observe it seems obvious to me that they are not. Thanks in advance, A concerned citizen	10/24/2023

2024-OCSPP-02371	Crofton, Kevin	-	This request is made on behalf of myself under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552. I am currently a retired developmental neurotoxicologist and private citizen working on a project that aims to support the transition from animal-based testing to the use of alternative non-animal testing methods for assessing the potential developmental neurotoxicity hazards of chemicals. To this end, the goal of my project is to: 1) facilitate the development of non-animal alternative models for development neurotoxicity by informing the comparison to in vivo results; and, 2) make this data publicly available by publication in a peer reviewed journal or other publicly accessible format. I note that this goal is in line with Administrator Wheeler's statement on 09/10/2019 to reduce animal testing by 30% in 2025. Subsequent to my previous request (FOIA request EPA-2020-003946) for all Developmental Neurotoxicity Studies that have been submitted to the Office of Pesticide Products, I am now requesting the following documents. I have provided information to help with the searches. 1. 2024-OAR-02456	Budden, Matthew	Nissan Technical Centre Europe	Hello, As part of a competitor benchmarking process we will be testing a Lucid Air vehicle in a wind tunnel facility in France. To conform with WLTP regulations this facility has a 5 belt system which 'drives' the vehicle. In order to be able to test this vehicle on this system we need to know the procedure to activate dyno/coast mode on the vehicle. Failure to do this could result in damage to the wind tunnel system, the vehicle or in worst case a risk to human life if the high voltage components overcharge leading to either electric shocks or emission of dangerous gasses such as Hydrogen Fluoride. We would therefore like to request the documentation of dyno/coast down mode to enable the safe testing of this vehicle. Kind Regards, Matt Budden	10/31/2023

2024-EPA-02566	Thompson, Walt	-	What are the current cradle to grave costs of (non-hazardous) household curbside recycling? From household kitchen recycling bin...out to the curb...onto trucks...to MRF...to final destinations. For example: Including the time and electricity it takes for homeowners to wash cans, glass and plastics...take to curb... Including travel, vehicle and infrastructure costs to pick up and transport to an area Materials Recovery Facility (MRF) Including costs to process buildings, staff, operations, vehicles, sorting, baling and prepare for shipments...and such...at a MRF Including costs to transport from a MRF to final destinations...domestic incinerators, landfills or a company with uses recycling materials. Or transportation to a port and then overseas. I realize there are a lot if variables...like destinations and particular recyclables as all have varying values. Working to establish that in the final analysis...approximating cradle to grave costs, that the costs vs benefits of homeowner curbside recycling (cardboard, mixed paper, glass, cans and other household metals, plastics 1-7) are overall greater than the costs to incinerate, landfill or ship overseas. That currently in the USA, homeowner curbside recycling have more NET NET costs than benefits.	11/02/2023

2024-EPA-02601	Rogers, Andrea	Infiniti Investigations LLC	Any responsive records for the following incident: Parties: Dow Grand Bayou Operations / Action Industries / DOI: 12/14/2022 / LOI: Dow Grand Bayou Operations, 70 S, Belle Rose, LA 70341 / Details: There were three valves that needed to be closed. And there were time constraints to get it done. Operator told PNC they had maybe 5 minutes to get it done. Operator-Myron had only partially closed the one valve when PNC got there. PNC thinks he didn't close that valve all the way, because he was going to shut off the compressor then finish. Operator instructed PNC to close the other two valves. Nothing was locked out or tagged. PNC closed the other two valves as instructed. After closing the valves, they started disconnecting hoses. That is when the incident happened. Pressure in the line blew out the hose, striking PNC in the face and knocking him back and to the ground. /	11/07/2023

2024-EPA-02639	Cho, Bridget	Allen Matkins	Hello, On behalf of Trane Technologies Company LLC ("Trane"), I am requesting copies of waste manifests for a company called Proto Tool at the Stringfellow Superfund Site, specifically any copies of "Generator Records for Proto Tool," which I was advised may be off-site at the Federal Records Center. By way of background, Trane used to operate under the name Ingersoll-Rand. In 1964, Ingersoll-Rand acquired a company in Los Angeles area called Pendleton Tool Industries. Pendleton Tool Industries had a number of predecessor names including Proto Tool and Plomb Tool. Based on my research, Ingersoll-Rand and Proto Tool were de minimis settling parties at the Site, which resolved their liabilities as generators of waste disposed at Stringfellow and which funds were used to provide environmental protection for the local residents including operation of a treatment plant to clean up and protect the groundwater in the Glen Avon community. Trane has a site in the Los Angeles area at which it is alleged that PCE and TCE was used by Ingersoll-Rand/Pendleton/Proto/Plomb. Trane has exceedingly few records regarding this site as it was sold many years ago but none of the records that we have found so far have identified any use of PCE. Consequently, it would be very helpful to examine all the waste manifests, including waste	11/09/2023 manifests associated with shipments to Stringfellow to understand what chemicals Proto Tool shipped during this time period. Please let me know if you require any additional information to support the request. Thank you in advance for your time. (Date Range for Record Search: From 01/01/1956 To 12/31/1972)

2024-EPA-02654	Lasater, Bryan	-	Good morning Mr. Lasater, Thank you for contacting the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regarding Tenneco Polymers in Burlington Township, New Jersey. Your message, appended below, was forwarded to this Office today (November 9th) for response. Please note that I've searched EPA's Superfund Enterprise Management System (SEMS – our database for sites), and found eight site-related documents, from the September 1980 to May 2000 time period.	11/09/2023

			Unfortunately, SEMS is currently undergoing an upgrade and I currently cannot access the specific documents to see what information they contain. Nevertheless, it appears that there are documents pertaining to a "Preliminary Assessment" and "Site Inspection" which may contain the information that you are looking for. If you wanted those documents, you would have to submit a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request at the following website: www.foia.gov . Since the information that you obtained indicates there was a state-lead cleanup, it may be more expedient for you to just contact the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (NJDEP) for information about the site. I suggest calling the Department's Office of Community Relations, at 609-984-3081. If the site is contaminated, I'm assuming that there would be a state-regulated Licensed Site Remediation Professional (LSRP) assigned to the project, and the NJDEP should be able to provide you with the LSRP's contact information. Good luck! Sincerely yours, Jim Haklar James S. Rivergate Blvd in Portland, Oregon, which in some unknown way is connected with the Portland Harbor Superfund Site. It was originally a pickle plant, which was operated by Steinfeld Pickles from 1980 to 1999. Steinfeld Pickles sold its business including this facility to a Dean Foods Company subsidiary in 1999. Dean Foods Company later spun this subsidiary off into a new entity called Bay Valley Foods in 2005. Bay Valley Foods is a wholly owned subsidiary of TreeHouse Foods, Inc. The pickle plant was shut down in 2008. It remained vacant before being sold in 2014. There are three different PRPs listed for this same address: (1) Bay Valley Foods, LLC, (2) SPC Properties, LLC and (3) Treehouse Foods, Inc. All three received General Notice Letters in either 2010 or 2011. We're interested in receiving any information that the U.S. EPA may have regarding the site and/or PRPs explaining the connection to the Portland Harbor Supcrfund Site including copies of the General Notice Letters for each of the three different legal entities along with any information submitted as part of the section 104(e) requests.	11/13/2023

Information concerning the earliest year that full staff lists for the EPA are available through FOIA or otherwise. Note: we put in an earlier version of this request last year in EPA-2022-004607. While that request resulted in a "full release," however, there seemed to some misreading or misunderstanding of the request, as we only received results for December 2015, and nothing for any earlier quarter or year. Hopefully, you can correct for this error this time around. While we designate 1999, as the earliest year for which we are requesting staffing lists, we also hope to ascertain just how far back full staff lists of this agency are available. 2024-EPA-00935	Ruch, Jeff	PEER	In an October 2021 "Frequently Asked Questions" and a briefing of the Hunters Point Citizens Advisory Committee, the U.S. Navy revealed that in its radiological field work on Parcel G that approximately "10% of samples indicate strontium-90 levels slightly above the remediation goal." And that "To remedy this, the Navy worked with regulatory agencies and chemists to refine the laboratory procedure to produce more precise analytical results." In its PowerPoint presentation to the Citizens Advisory Committee, the Navy indicated that it would "re-analyze" all strontium-90 samples using an "updated method" designed to produce "more precise and certain results" with the concurrence of "regulatory agencies." Presumably, those agencies include the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552, as amended, Public Employees for Environmental Responsibility (PEER) requests information regarding these matters. Specifically, we request the following: 1. Records reflecting the referenced strontium-90 sampling results, including the specific levels of strontium-90 detected and the precise location of each sample; 2. The Parcel G strontium-90 sampling plan and methodology used to take those existing measurements, and the sampling plan and methodology being employed for the "updated method" designed for "more precise and certain results"; 3. Communications related to the Navy's announced conclusion that re-analysis of these samples was appropriate and/or why the reported results lacked precision or certainty, as well as records reflecting whether EPA agreed with the Navy's conclusion; 4. Any records describing the "updated method" of analyzing these samples and detailing why this method would yield "more precise and certain results", including any records indicating why this new or revised method might in fact not yield more precise and certain results; 5. All communications with the Navy regarding strontium-90 sampling, including communications concerning the need for and approval of updated methods for analyzing these soil samples; 6. Records reflecting EPA's most recent position on what the background levels of strontium-90 are and should be used in the HPNS cleanup, including any records reflecting whether EPA disagreed with the Navy's purported background values for stontium-90 and if so, why; and 7. Documents created or forwarded describing all possible sources of strontium-90 on Parcel G. PEER submitted an identical FOIA request dated January 6, 2023. By this request, we seek only records generated after December 6, 2023.	12/06/2023

2024-EPA-00896	Whelton, Andrew	Purdue University	On Wednesday, November 15, 2023 USEPA presented results of a study entitled "7.06.T-04 - Misinformation and Disinformation in Risk Communication: Reflections from East Palestine OH" at SETAC North America 44th Annual Meeting in Kentucky. The presentation was created by Michael Nye and other USEPA employees. There is a presentation file that was to be delivered. Because Mr. Nye became sick and was unable to present, another presenter presented the presentation. This version may have been changed from the earlier submitted version. I am seeking both presentations and associated background information for the information presented. I am seeking email correspondence about this from nye.michael@epa.gov with keywords Ohio, Purdue, Perdue, East Palestine, disaster, misinformation, media, Region 5. EMAIL TO Mr. Nye I sent November 17, 2023 by email Dear Mr. Nye, I saw that you presented at SETAC Kentucky. I was wondering if you could please share with us your PDF presentation? Thank you in advance for considering this request. Sincerely, Andrew 7.06.T-04 - Misinformation and Disinformation in Risk Communication: Reflections from East Palestine OH Wednesday, November 15, 2023 2:30 PM Ballroom C (Kentucky International Convention Center) Abstract Misinformation and disinformation present a significant and growing challenge for effective risk communication, particularly in context of disasters and public health emergencies where they can lead to casualties or other irreversible effects. Both thrive in conditions of uncertainty, and both are easily spread through social media as people search for the information they need to make decisions about hazards, risk, and protective action. This session will first present a primer on the psychological and social dimensions of the human response to unforeseen circumstances, and the ways that information (both correct/official and mis/disinformation) are sought out to fill information vacuums, reduce anxiety about the unknown, and create feelings of control. We will then discuss several specific examples of misinformation and disinformation encountered by EPA and other Federal/State/Local staff during the response to the recent train derailment in East Palestine OH. The presentation will conclude with contextually relevant tips for combating misinformation and disinformation in risk communication and in the field and will offer opportunities for attendees to share their own experiences and examples. 2024-R7-01036	Hauser, Annie	-	I live within close proximity to the former Defiance Dump Site (EPA ID: MOD980502272). At the time of its assessment, the area was not very populated, but it has grown quite a bit since the late 90's. In researching this site, I have several concerns considering how close we live. There is no documentation regarding the further action that was needed to fully remediate the site. According to Doc ID - 30494281, the last document I can find, it states, "A removal action should be initiated to address the imminent threats at the site and to prevent further contamination off-site." I'm requesting any and all action that was taken (after 9/8/1998), including a full remediation report. I'm also requesting any laboratory data including but not limited to: drinking water samples, Private well samples, surface water samples, soil and sediment samples. When was the waste finally removed from the site and what was the date it was full remediated?	12/14/2023

2024-EPA-01170	Ruch, Jeff	PEER	In an email dated October 26, 2023, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Region 9 Assistant Regional Counsel Xiao Zhang wrote to me concerning a pending Freedom of Information Act request (FOIA No. EPA-R9-2023-000317) from Public Employees for Environmental Responsibility (PEER), the following: "As described below, the Navy has moved away from keeping the remaining buildings at the site except for five buildings that are on the National Historic Register. After December 2021, EPA and the Navy suspended discussions regarding reconciling differences between the building remedial goal risk calculations based on RESRAD BUILD vs. EPA's BPRG calculator. The goal now is to demolish 77 non-radiologically impacted and 25 potentially radiologically impacted buildings at HPNS (~2.6M sq ft), and the Navy has been primarily working with the State of California to determine the nature of the building surveys and how the data will support decisions regarding the disposal of building demolition debris." Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552, as amended, PEER requests information concerning this message and related subjects. Specifically, we request the following: 1. Documents that discuss the Navy plans to demolish the indicated 102 buildings, including the basis for the decision to demolish rather than remediate them; 2. Records concerning and/or discussing the plans and alternatives for the disposal of the resulting debris, including but not limited to the debris from the "25 potentially radiologically impacted buildings," including where the debris will be sent, whether recycling will be permitted, what standards will be employed in determining whether the material must go to a licensed low-level radioactive waste (LLRW) disposal facility, and what measurements will be required; 3. Copies of any communications from the California Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) and/or the California Department of Public Health and/or any other California agency or department related to the above two items; and 4. Records relating to the five buildings which are not slated for demolition, including the identity of each building, the intended use(s) of those buildings as well as the Navy's remediation goals (RGs) for those buildings, EPA's consideration of and/or approval of those RGs, the basis for the RGs (e.g., derived from RESRAD-Build or EPA's BPRG Calculator), the	12/19/2023

2024-EPA-00681	Zink, Ana	Siena College	Subject: Pollution levels and Monitoring data To Whom It May Concern, I am writing to request the following records under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). I am requesting any, and all documents, data, research, and material that includes anything related to "Pollution levels and Monitoring data" during the past 10 years, in an electronic format. My request includes also background and research about the reason why is increasing and what actions the government is taking to reduce it. For your reference, I am a student at Siena College in Loudonville, NY. I am interested in having access to these documents to help my research for my academic curriculum, through which I will have a greater breadth of knowledge on the subject that I am writing about. The issue of environmental pollution is linked to the government, and consequently to the documents recorded by the FOIA. From these documents, I will have a wider range of data, arguments, and knowledge, because what the press provides contains relevant data, but I need records that the press does not provide. That's why I'm looking for records to get the best possible understanding of how pollution is increasing and the attitudes being taken to this	12/19/2023

2024-EPA-01248	Rosia, David	-	According to Vol. 67, No. 53 of the Federal Register, in the case of United States v. Angus Macdonald et al, a consent decree was issued March 1, 2002 with the United States Court for the Western District of Virginia. That consent decree ordered the Defendants to sell their remaining lots in Glengary Equestrian Estates subdivision and pay 60% of the proceeds to a "Site Special Account" for future work at the site or reimbursement of the Superfund. I request to know how much the Defendants actually paid into that account. The Defendants sold roughly $1.2 million worth of land in the three years following the aforementioned consent decree, and have not sold a lot since. It is suspected that they have and/or are defrauding the government by listing the remaining lots far above market value.	12/27/2023
