

ALERT: AVOID UNREGISTERED FABULOSO PESTICIDES

Common pesticidal claims in Spanish on unregistered Fabuloso pesticides.

Background

Certain Fabuloso products that are unregistered pesticides are being sold throughout the United States. Since these products include antibacterial and antiviral claims, they are considered pesticides under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act. Please note that Fabuloso cleaning products without pesticidal claims are not regulated by the U.S. EPA.

Warning

Do not buy or use unregistered pesticides as they often lack required use directions and precautionary information. They may also contain ingredients which have not been evaluated for safety or effectiveness. Products not registered by the U.S. EPA can be harmful to human health and may not work as claimed.

Check Your Pesticide Labels

Properly registered pesticides will have:

- An EPA Registration Number on the label.
- An EPA Establishment Number on the label.
- All labelling information entirely in English, but can include translations in additional languages.
