

The justification for location:

The City of Palm Coast, Flagler County, Florida is prioritizing environmental stewardship and community well-being by focusing on Justice40 tracts 12035060212 and 1203506021. These areas have been earmarked as crucial zones for addressing sanitary sewer overflows, minimizing pumping truck idling times, and ultimately mitigating neighborhood air pollution. Through targeted interventions, the City aims to enhance local air quality and optimize energy utilization in our wastewater operations, fostering a healthier and more sustainable urban environment for all residents.
